

Portuguese Language

The number of Portuguese speakers worldwide is approximately 270 million people. This includes both native and second-language speakers. The majority of these speakers are in Brazil, which has the largest Portuguese-speaking population, followed by Portugal and other countries in Africa and Asia where Portuguese is either the official or a widely spoken language.

Hello : Bom dia
thank you : obrigado
good night : boa noite
good bye : xau
how are you : tudo bem?

Here is a list of countries where Portuguese is spoken:

1. Angola
2. Brazil
3. Cape Verde
4. Guinea-Bissau
5. Mozambique
6. Portugal
7. São Tomé and Príncipe
8. East Timor (Timor-Leste)
9. Equatorial Guinea (Portuguese is one of the official languages, alongside Spanish and French)

Obrigada

These countries have Portuguese as either the official language or one of the official languages.

Gonçalo & Matilde

